

Table of contents

Emails for students who are not active and/or not completing the surveys

E-Mail 1: To go to people who have not completed more than 3 surveys and not responded to our last email. All these people have very little if any activity in the last 15 weeks of the Spring 2012 semester. We should send this email tomorrow, Wed. Then if we have not heard from them we should try to contact them through their phones and then through their RAs. The letter should be signed by me and use my email address for the reply to address.

Dear XXXX,

According to our records you have not responded to the email that we sent last Friday regarding taking the two most recent surveys. Also according to our records you were not using your smartphone for texting or making calls during the last part of the Spring semester, and there are other surveys that you have not taken. You agreed upon receiving your smartphone that you would use it as your primary communication device and that you would take the surveys we asked you to take. Given that you have been inactive, we are asking that you return your smartphone and withdraw from the study. Please contact me by noon on Monday, September 19th to arrange a way for us to receive your smartphone.

If we have made a mistake in our records or if you would like to continue to participate in the study you must contact me by noon on Monday, September 19th in order to arrange a meeting with me to discuss this matter.

Email2: To go to people who have not answered our most recent email and who have not completed 3 or less surveys. This should go out tomorrow as well. It should also go out from me with my reply to email address.

Dear XXX,

According to our records, you have not responded to the email that we sent last Friday regarding your failure to take the two most recent surveys. Also according to our records you have not used your phone for texting and voice calls very much during the last 10 weeks of the Spring 2012 semester. Given this, we are not sure if you want to continue to participate in the NetSense study. We very much hope that you do want to continue to participate, but we need to remind you that you agreed upon receiving your smartphone to use it as your primary communication device and to take the surveys.

Please let me know by Monday September 19th if you want to continue to participate in the NetSense study or if you want to withdraw and return the phone to us.

If we have made a mistake in our records or if you would like to discuss this matter with me please contact me in order to arrange a meeting when we can discuss this matter.